GIS & MIS

1. Generation of GIS database on Forest boundaries in West Bengal

Joint Forest Management committee (JFMC), earlier termed Forest Protection Committee (FPC) is the basic unit of forest management in West Bengal. FPC's have long been formed and surveyed in field, the ancillary data per FPC has been recorded and reported for monitoring activities regularly. The MOD of WBFBCP clearly indicates that all the project activities to be undertaken in field shall be recorded in GIS, making it imperative to generate the GIS database of FPC boundaries in project area.

The generation of comprehensive GIS database on FPC boundaries will enable efficient management of ground activities related to project and will assist decision makers in analysis and visualization of project impact. Also, JFMC database will be used as founding stones for development of comprehensive Forest boundaries (Beat, Range and Division), which are not available in desired accuracy to state forest department.

After a series of workshops and field visits, a set of guidelines have been formed for the territorial staff for demarcation of JFMC (FPC) boundaries using GPS assisted survey. The demarcation of these boundaries is in its final stages now.

2. Raw GPS Data cleaning/ Editing

FPC boundary data from field collected via a GPS assisted survey by skilled project staff, rigorously trained in GPS handling and data collection. Despite of all field precautions, the GPS data can be often replete with human induced errors which may render the data unusable and inaccurate in absence of post-processing procedures. In absence of laboratory for post processing of GPS data, the field data (600 FPC's ) is being post-processed by hiring a competent external agency which is capable of cleaning the raw data in GPS output form (or as received from field) and editing it to add attribute data available in JFMC records in excel files.

Boundary Demarcation

Project JFMCs boundaries of the Forest areas, have been demarcated with the help of GPS under MIS-GIS component of the project activities and the boundary demarcation work of the jointly managed forest area has been completed over 600 JFMCs by 31.03.2019

3. Baseline survey of Forest

The baseline survey to be conducted for establishment of the benchmark in the project is being done by Forest survey of India (FSI). This survey is designed to generate estimates for the project districts (not JFMC-wise). As requested by FSI, the JFMC boundaries collected in field are being provided to them only after cleaning/editing with defined attributes required for the survey.

4. Mauza level Data Preparation (TOR)

The generated GIS database under WBFBCP will be utilized for generation of a comprehensive spatial database of forest resources for entire project area to assist in strategic planning, monitoring, evaluation and impact assessment of the project. As the data assimilation for JFMC boundaries is in process by the territorial forest divisions, generation of comprehensive GIS database is being done in a phased manner.

The generation of Land records (plot level) data per JFMC has been initiated in collaboration with Fisheries Mapping Project, a part of State Fisheries Department, West Bengal. Forest division of Burdwan has been taken up as the pilot division for the same.

5. E Plantation journal

Status: Fully functional with restricted access for JICA related plantations

E Plantation journal is an online MIS system supporting a comprehensive databank of Plantation Journals. E plantation journal allows for input of plantation through a user-friendly GUI, retrieves the Plantation Journals quickly apart from enabling online data analysis and report generation. To reduce the common errors during data entry and to guide the operators, inter-linked Master Data set of location, land schedule, models of plantation, species, central nursery locations, soil and moisture conservation works, soil data, etc. have been compiled and interlinked.

The application expansion is expected to incorporate plantation journals of many other schemes like state plan, Namami-Gange etc which requires slight modifications in basic database structure and strengthening of master datasets.

Application Support and Backup for the application is elaborated below:

- Database Backup Application includes a Daily backup plan wherein every day the database is synced from Cloud to local server. Also, every two days, whole application content is synced to local MAC server by visiting Support Executive Innova (contracted MIS Company) in order to backup the heavy content like regularly uploaded photographs and kml files. Additionally, the complete local server backup is synced to Cloud & Local Hard drive in continuous mode. For documentation and reporting purposes, a monthly backup DVD is submitted to PMU containing database & with other files.
- Application Support by Innova's tech-support team handles the technical queries related to entry/updation of plantation journals from PMU & DMUs and application & database modifications for FMIS as well as training sessions & workshops on data entry/updation in FMIS are conducted at PMU and DMUs as and when required.

Community Development

Community mobilisaiton is a central component of the WBFBCP. Communities residing in forest fringe villages are members of JFMC. Thus, JMFC approach is adopted by the project to deliver Community Mobilisation work. Economic empowerment of villagers reduces their perpetual dependency on forests for deriving livelihoods. It also ensures better forest Protection & management.

WBFBCP has adopted few strategies for Community Mobilisation i.e. mobilisaiton, participatory planning, creating community assets through one-time grants and providing small loans to SHG members; all these interventions are done through JFMCs.

Micro plans determined the needs of the villagers and highlighted their priorities in terms of assets needed. Assets created at community level are being maintained by community members, who are also members of JFMC. Small loans to SHGs have triggered a cascading effect and helped many poor families to overcome abject Poverty and to participate in Joint forest management in a more effective way.
